History of ICVGIP

Computer Vision, Graphics and Image Processing are some of the most actively pursued research areas in the world and there exists a large community exploring various aspects of this area in India. A common platform where the entire community could gather and exchange ideas was a must. This would provide impetus to workers in the field to further research as well as give directions to R&D activities in the country.

The Indian Conference on Computer Vision, Graphics and Image Processing is a forum to bring the researchers and practitioners of these allied areas together under one umbrella. ICVGIP 2008 is the 6th in the series of the conferences organized under the banner of the 'Indian Conference on Computer Vision, Graphics and Image Processing'. All editions of ICVGIP received excellent response in terms of submissions from across the globe. Plenary talks have been delivered by international experts well known in their respective fields of research. About 250 delegates from India and abroad are expected to participate in ICVGIP 2008.

Industry always made a meaningful contribution to the success of ICVGIP through financial sponsorship and state-of-the-art presentations made in the Industry track. Similar response is anticipated for ICVGIP 2008.

About ICVGIP 2008

ICVGIP 08 will be held in the city of Bhubaneswar, which is the capital of the state of Orissa, located in the eastern part of India and well connected by air, rail and road to many major cities in the country.

Places in and around Bhubaneswar have a number of attractions to offer to the visitors: famous temples and historic shrines as well as a wide range of handicrafts and handwoven textiles. The Udayagiri and Khandagiri hills have a network of Buddhist and Jain caves created almost two thousand years ago. The magnificent Sun Temple at Konark is on the UNESCO World Heritage list. Puri, located on the Bay of Bengal, has one of the most beautiful beaches in India. Chilika Lake, the largest brackish water lake in Asia, abounds with migratory birds during the winter.

The conference proceedings will be published by the prestigious IEEE Computer Society Press and become available on IEEE Explore.
